

What Should I Know About 504 Plans?

Some kids with learning and attention issues don't need (or are not eligible) for special education.

Depending on their challenges, they may be able to get help through a 504 plan.

504 plans are designed to help kids with disabilities learn alongside their peers. They do this by removing barriers to learning.

504 plans aren't the same as IEPs. They're each covered by different laws and work in different ways. If your child has an IEP, please call WarmLine to ask if this training would benefit you.

Thursday, August 29 — 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.
